About Van Doorne

Van Doorne is a full-service firm with over 230 lawyers, civil-law notaries and tax specialists. They work in multidisciplinary teams for Dutch and international companies, commercial and financial service providers, semi-public organisations and government agencies.

TIQ, a global leader in automated time-tracking systems for law firms, proudly announces the successful implementation of TIQ Time at Van Doorne, a leading Dutch full-service law firm with over 230 professionals.

Van Doorne needed an addition to its existing time-entry system. The existing system lacked the ability to automatically track the time lawyers spent during the day, leading to manual work and loss of accuracy, consistency and insights. TIQ Time addresses this challenge by offering innovative time-capturing features and automated time entry suggestions, promoting consistent and accurate timekeeping across the firm.

In January 2023, Sjoerd Kamerbeek assumed the role of Managing Partner at Van Doorne, prioritizing the improvement of time registration processes.

"While registering billable hours is crucial, it's equally important to have a reliable overview of time spent across the firm to provide our clients with transparent and consistent insights. Before implementing TIQ Time, we devoted considerable effort to gaining a clear understanding of how our lawyers were spending their time. TIQ Time has become a catalyst for improving and automating our time-capturing processes," said Kamerbeek.

Kamerbeek quickly identified TIQ as the preferred provider for automated time-tracking software. The decision was influenced by TIQ's successful implementations at leading law firms across Europe, its modern and intuitive user interface, and seamless integrations with major practice management systems.

"An additional benefit of introducing TIQ Time at our firm is the increasing number of lawyers now registering their time daily, guided by the software's suggestions. This shift away from once-a-week manual time entry, has significantly improved our timekeeping accuracy," Kamerbeek added.

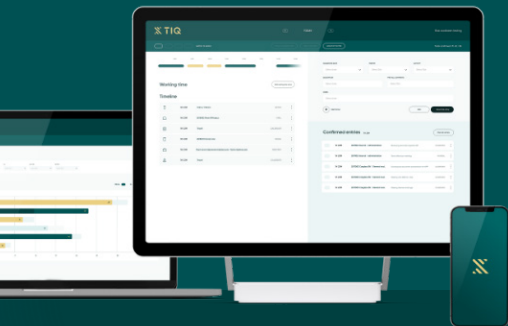

Nick Schils
CEO & Founder at TIQ

"Having such a prominent Dutch law firm as Van Doorne as one of our clients is an honor and reinforces our position as a market leader in automated time-capturing software. It was a pleasure to collaborate with the Van Doorne team to ensure a smooth and hassle-free implementation."
